Neighborhood Crime Watch

Director's Notes

A farce is a comedy which aims to entertain the audience by means of unlikely, extravagant, and improbable situations, disguise and mistaken identity, verbal humor of varying degrees of sophistication, which may include sexual innuendo and word play, and a fast-paced plot whose speed usually increases, culminating in an ending which often involves an elaborate chase scene. Farce is also characterized by physical humor, the use of deliberate absurdity or nonsense, and broadly stylized performances

Neighborhood Crime Watch is indeed a farce. We have assembled a group of actors that are able to pull off this group of absurd characters that come together at this meeting to try and eliminate the crime in their neighborhood.

There is off color language and plenty of deviant behavior that is sure to offend many people in the audience. Just remember that the opinions stated by the characters are not necessarily those held by the management. Please forgive them for they know not of what they speak.

Just sit back and enjoy the absurdity.
